prove it. Far more important than the candidate's words is the estimate you are able to prove it. Far more important than the candidate's words is the estimate you are able to put upon the closeness with which his deeds will correspond to his words. No self-respecting man who is a candidate can state with exact minuteness what his line of conduct will be, because, while he must remain firm throughout in his adherence to the mmovable principles of right, yet he must be prepared to meet the constantly shifting conditions of governmental life. It may perhaps be said without irreverence that a man should in his public as well as private life strive to conform his conduct to the principles land down in those two ancients guides to conduct, the Decalogue and the Golden Puble.

TO MAKE HONESTY THE FIRST REQUISITE.

Now, my purpose is, if elected Governor, to make honesty the first requisite in dealing with every public servant and every public measure. The State has many varied interests, and her needs must be met in many varied ways. There are only a few general rules that can be laid down as to the groper way of meeting them. But this rule of absolute honesty, of absolute good faith, is one that can be applied to every interest with which I shall have to deal. It shall be applied in dealing with the canals, it shall be applied in dealing with the interests of labor, it shall be applied in dealing with the interests of labor, it shall be applied in dealing with the interests of thrift and business energy, it shall be applied in one of the tests applied to everything. So much for what I say. As for what I will do to make my word good, your knowledge of me and what I have done in the past, your knowledge as to whether I have on have not lived in to my lights, as I saw them, and kept faith after taking office as to every principle on which I declared myself before taking office—this knowledge of cours must serve as my justification in asking your support. If you do believe that I will keep my word, express or implied, I do not want your votes. If you do believe it, then I do want your votes. must be met in many varied ways. There are only

ABOUT THE NATIONAL GUARD.

third State issue they raise is the National Guard. Well I believe the National Guard can be improved. I was three years in the National ard, and during this summer I saw some service actual worfare. I know what the National in actual worfare. I know what the National coursel needs and wants. I shall take in it no perfunctory interest, but I shall treat it as it deserves to be irreated, as one of the most important interests of the State, for upon its efficiency may desend not only the welfare of the State, but even the honor of the Nation. I shall try to see not take honor of the Nation. I shall try to see not sais that the National Guard is well armed and with equipped, not only that it is managed on the lost system mut also that its officers are the very less to be hall. I do not believe that the National Stand should in any way be mixed up in politics, at all appointments I have to make to it shall be made solely with the view to the best interests of the Guard and the bost interests of the people. A FOURTH ISSUE here are the three State issues that our opponents raise. We have shown entire readiness to most them, and more than meet them on each and every one. Now, we raise a fourth issue, on which ther do not dare to meet us, and that issue is the Judiciary. It is axiomatic that our judges should be kept up to the highest possible standard and should so far as possible, he kept out of politics I am more designted than I can say with the course of my parter this year in making nominations for the judiciary. Resides nominating excellent Residuals, they have in New-York County renominated a lifelong Democrat, who had shown that he was a good and upright judge. NATIONAL ISSUES DISCUSSED

We have met our opponents on every State issue fare not raise. But there are one or two National issues on which they do not dare to state their position frankly, or even to hint at it. It is idle position frankly, or even to hint at R. It is idle folly to say that Notional issues are not at stake in this campaign. It is more than that, it is a delicerate untruth. You are crizens of New York, but you are also chizens of the United States. In this campaign a United States Senatorship and thirty-four congressional representatives are at stake, and yet our opponents say that no National issues are involved! Why do they say it? Simply because they do not dare to meet the issues involved. They are willing to prattle about dishonesty in the canais, but they do not dare to so much as raise a whisper on the question of honest or dishonest finance in the Nation at large. They dare not even explain the contradictions between their votes and their secret hopes two years ago, or tell why they voted for Mr. Bryan and his theories one year after denouncing them that very spring; still less to explain why they are now speechless on the issue. The facts are that the leaders among them care neither for gold or silvar for honest or dishonest finance, save as the advocacy of either or of both may lead to success or defeat. There are those among them who feel somewhat ashamed of this attitude, and these seek to still their uneasy consciences by loudity proclaiming that the silver question is dead, or at least is not an issue in this campaign. Well, it won't be an issue hereafter if the ticket upon which I am running is elected. But it will be a very lively issue indeed two years hence if our opponents win this year. They have lacked the courage to be true even to a bad principle, and, as they also lacked the courage to be true to a good one, they have followed their instincts and dodged. But the faut remains that if we are defeated this year in New-York these half-hearted and unwilling friends of the cause of free silver will have struck a telling blow in its behalf. Last spring little Oregon, out on the Pacific Coast, in an election just like ours here, went for gold. Nobody said then that no National issues were involved in that election. We halled it everywhere as a victory for sound finance. Oregon from the West sent a gold Senator to the United States Senate. Are you willing that New-York from the East should offset little Oregon's vote by sending to the Senate a man who will vote for free silver? STILL OTHERS INVOLVED

There are other National issues involved. Upon one I have already touched. The question of an callty only. Furthermore, the very name of our State troops, the National Guard, shows that the Governor may at any moment have to play an important part, and almost always play something of a part, in the general scheme of National defence. Yet again do not forget that the Governor may at any time have to fill a vacancy in the Senate, which is a matter of vital interest to the whole Nation. i hatter of vial interest in the viewed by the nations it votes this year will be viewed by the nations.

THE NEW ERA IN PORTO RICO.

DOMINION OVER THE ISLAND.

Ponce. Porto Rico. Oct. 19 .- To-day's celebrations in connection with the formal surrender of the island of Porto Rico were, as had been expected, most enthusiastic. After the parade the bands and various trade organizations went to General Henry's headquarters to be introduced to him. General Henry, in the course of a brief speech, said:

Alcalde and Citizens: To-day the flag of the United States floats as an emblem of undisputed authority over the island of Porto Rico, giving promise of protection to life, of liberty, prosperity and the right to worship God in accordance with the dictates of conscience. The fortyance with the dictates of conscience. The fortyrive States represented by the stars emblazoned Political animosities must be for-gotten in unity and in the recognition of com-mon interests. I congratulate you all in begin-ning your public life under new auspices, free from governmental oppression and with liberty to advance your own country's interests by your united efforts.

General Henry then introduced Colonel John B. Castleman, who spoke with great effect as an old Confederate The Alcalde replied in part as follows.

To-day destiny has written the last page of Spanish dominion in Porto Rico and the pro-logue to the entrance of the noble American Relogue to the entrance of the noble American Re-public, whose flag is a sign of a new era. We hope soon to see another star symbolic of our pros-perity and of our membership in the great Re-public of States. Porto Rico has not accepted American dominion on account of force. She had the misfortune to suffer for many years the had the misfortune to suffer for many years the evils of error, neglect and persecution, but she had men who studied the question of government and who saw in America her redemption and a guarantee of life, liberty and justice. Therefore we come willingly and freely, hoping, hand in hand with the greatest of all republics, to advance in civilization and progress and to become part of the Republic, to which we pledge our faith forever.

FOR AMERICAN TRADE IN THE EAST.

RESULT OF INVESTIGATIONS MADE BY THE PHILADELPHIA COMMERCIAL MUSEUM. Philadelphia, Oct. 19.-Encouraging reports are being received by the Commercial Museum from the members of the Commission which under the direction of the museum, is investigating the opportunities for the extension of American trade in China. These reports make it clear that a spien did trade awaits the United States in China if proper efforts are made to secure it. On the return the Commission a full report will be prepared and sent out by the museum C. A. Green, assistant chief of the Bureau of Information of the museum, one of the members of the Commission, writing from Singapore, reports briefly on his observations at Shanghal. Kong and other places. He says that he has been n every place visited, and he is convinced that American trade can be pushed in the East to advantage. Shanghai, Hong Kong and Singapore are great distributing points, and the trade of each is growing. The United States has a small share at the present time. The business is done by English houses. They will not push American lines if English goods can be sold. In Shanghai there are only three American firms; in Hong Kong and Singapore there are none. The merchants, the report says, are only middlemen, the trade being with the natives, who, of course, will only buy what they know and have seen. "Give them a chance." Mr. Green suggests, "and the trade can be built up, not with a rush, but it will grow gradually." The report notes that large quantities of goods for Manila are waiting shipment at Hong Kong. Some have been there for weeks, having been ordered before the war began. Others were ordered in expectation of a great demand as soon as the war was over. Freight rates have doubled from Hong Kong to Manila and it is hard to get transportation. It is thought in Hong Kong that for a time the Manila market will be overstocked, but under settled conditions a good trade will develop. The people buy a better class of goods than the Chinese, and consume more. Food products will be in demand, textiles, hardware, and later on machinery and coffee and rice mills will be fitted up. The report mentions in a brief manner the exports of the Philippine Islands, and gives some figures for the year ended on June 30.

Speaking of Eungkok, Stam, Mr. Green's report mentions that nearly all the business in that city is done from Singapore, the houses being branches.

Speaking of Eangkok, Slam, Mr. Green's report mentions that nearly all the business in that city is done from Singapore, the houses being branches of Singapore firms. The principal imports are piece goods, opium, oil and sugar.

The report includes the names of a number of native and European importing firms of good standing in the cities which the Commission visited, espepially Manila, Bangkok, Hong Kong and Singapore. The lines of husiness which they carry on are summarized, and their reputation and commercial standing noted.

Attangements were made by Mr. Green in Hong Kong to have "The Colonial Official Gazette," published in that city, sent regularly to the museum. The Public Printer is authority for the statement that it is the first copy to be sent to the United States.
